

reproductions of an image we have on file just call us and we can proceed with your proofs.

Brochures, Catalogue Sheets etc.

Create catalog sheets or sales brochures of your work. You may want to test the market for reproductions of your work or approach clients for the sale of your originals - we will create a catalog sheet or brochure for your art. You can approach prospective purchasers, make the sale, and then order the reproductions required.

With our ability to reproduce these sales brochures in small quantity without high pre-press costs, you can order them as you need them, and even make changes or add and delete images each time with minimal expense.

Call for more information, pricing, or to arrange to have your work photographed. We look forward to talking with you.

SPECIAL OFFER!!

Our popular PHOTOGRAPHY SPECIAL

has been extended!

Now extended until November 30, 2005, with any new 'ELITE' Art Reproduction package ordered from Krohnert Graphics Limited we will include Digital Photography of your artwork for no extra charge.

This high resolution digital photography eliminates the necessity to have your work photographed to transparency film for production purposes.

We can digitally photograph your work for high quality reproductions.

If you have more than one work to be photographed but you are not ready to have reproductions done yet, we will photograph your images now and you will be charged for the photography. However, we will credit the charge for each digital photograph when it is used for the production of an 'ELITE' giclée package within the following two years.

*'ELITE' is our highest quality reproduction package.

Must be using a digital photograph made under this offer.

This offer will expire November 30, 2005.

about our Digital Photography Service.

In conjunction with our FINE ART REPRODUCTION services Krohnert Graphics Limited offers Digital Photography specifically with high quality Giclée Reproductions in mind. This gives you a one-stop service – from image capture to final prints. Our state of the art equipment will capture superb color and detail for high quality reproductions.

Archive your inventory of creations - protect your work

We will photograph your images and supply them to you on CD. These photos can then be used for reference, web pages or future reproduction. Images can be supplied in 2 or 3 resolutions to facilitate use for web sites, print or giclée reproductions.

Make sure you have high quality photographic images of your work safely archived for future use. Once an image is sold it may not be possible to have it returned to be photographed.

Produce high quality reproductions

Today's digital camera evolution has brought us cameras that were not thought possible a few years ago. Many professional studios which were normally using medium (2 1/4") or large format (4x5" or 8x10") film formats are now producing the majority of their work with the new high resolution digital cameras. Needless to say these are not the 3, 4, 5 or even 6 or 8 megapixel cameras most of us are familiar with. but cameras that go well beyond these in resolution and capability.

These state of the art cameras capture the image directly, without film, processing and with no necessity for scanning. By removing these three critical steps in the reproduction process the ability to remain faithful to the original is greatly increased.

As well, we benefit from the ability to go from camera to final product in a shorter period of time. Film processing is eliminated and the risk of losing or damaging film during the developing process is no longer a problem.

While film photography will be with us for a long time (we still offer traditional medium format and 35 mm film transparencies) digital reproduction is proving to have great advantages and is rapidly becoming the new standard in the industry. Bring us your works of art and we will do the rest. We will photograph your images, proof them for your approval and produce beautiful reproduction prints that will give years of enjoyment to your clients.

On the other hand, if you only require your art to be photographed for possible future reproductions or just for a record, you are under no obligation to go beyond the photography stage. We will charge only for the photography and colour adjustments (if required) and supply you with a CD containing the digital information for you to keep for your records or future use.
